Re: Smart Babies

Dear Editor, Regarding the Global News item: "Mothers Milk Can Make Your Baby Smarter", I suggest that the cause of a higher IQ in breast fed infants may not be due to an "as yet unidentified substance in breast milk".

If they tested both mothers and infants for IQ they would probably find that breastfeeding mothers are smarter, and give birth to smarter kids.

Re: Great Magazine

Dear Duncan and Catherine,

This letter is not particularly informative, I just want to air a couple of ideas. I am a sixteen year old student, and yes, there are socially conscious teenagers out there! I wholeheartedly congratulate both of you on your efforts to disseminate so of that glut of information you are faced with. I empathise with your inability at the moment to present Nexus readers more of the "juicy" information, for fear of threats, etc. I advise all readers to investigate the Nexus Infopax, as they reveal some incredible realities.

Being young, reading the sort of information in Nexus can be discouraging. It is obvious to me now, that very soon, there will be immense changes in our whole social/governmental scheme. As the New World Order finally gets the upper hand on its last remaining opponents, and the World Money System takes hold, there must be a resistance! Read Nexus, read things advertised in Nexus, and become knowledgeable!

Anyhow, good luck with the magazine. You deserve all the best.

Re: Spelling Mistakes

Dear Ed, I can't believe

Nexus has been out all this time and I have only just discovered it. And I thought I was up on alternative reading material! Terrific magazine, full of all the information we really need to take time to think about.

One thing, now I know we all get rushed at times, but I must complain about the obvious typing errors throughout the entire magazine. I receive many magazines each week from all over the world, good quality information like yours, but I would have to say, Nexus has to be the worse typing-error-wise. Second best is not satisfactory, let's always aim to be the best at what we do.

Re: Nexus More Often

Dear Ed, Enclosed is my years subscription to Nexus Magazine. I thought I should take the opportunity to pass on my thoughts regarding Nexus while passing on my money.

Complaint. I want it more frequently. Once every two months is not enough! I know that it no doubt takes a lot of time, effort and work on the part of all involved, but a magazine this good deserves at least 'once a month'.

Compliment. Nexus is great. It is always interesting, sometimes a little hard to believe, sometimes frightening, but always essential reading. Too many people rely too much on the regular press and get too little of the real stories.

Keep up the good work.

Re: Love Is All There Is

Dear Duncan, All at Nexus, and All Nexus readers,

Firstly, what an informative publication this is. Some might say, "What a fascinating alternative magazine!" But if truth be known, most newspapers and magazine other than ones of this kind are the alternative publications, based on the untruth of their content.

Nexus seems to work in a purely observational fashion and the information does not seem to be misconstrued as is the case in the so called "regular" media.

The article 'Banks: Money from Nothing', (Vol.2, #9), was in many ways very enlightening, but I was already aware of it's general message. For Me it was more of a consolidation of awareness, although the article was no less interesting.

Yes, the financial powers that be, do rule the world, not the puppets, Paul Keating, George Bush, John Major etc. It makes Me wonder just how true the information on the 'regular' media is, about someone like Saddam Hussein. Whether he's a good man or a bad man, you have to admit - that man has balls, because of the way he bucks the system, ruled by those very financial powers that be. Just look at how hated he is by western governments. The same governments who are in the pockets of those same financial powers.

But don't worry, their day is fast coming to an end.

The reason for my letter though, is simply to reassure those who may be fearful when reading information of this nature.

These "negatives" and all the "positives" too, these polarities, are simply a part of the nature of mankind, the planet Terra and this very dimension. Embrace them all, accept them, just observe them from a distance. Acceptance of all aspects of daily life is the only way to find balance within yourselves. What's right or wrong, is only in the way in which we perceive them. Relax and release your struggle. Just Be; Be at peace.

Smile. It doesn't matter if "the world doesn't love you", as long as you love ...".

Namaste.

Re: Oxygen in Norway

Dear Sir, Thanks a lot for the issue of Nexus you sent me quite a while ago. I thought it was generally an excellent and fascinating publication, with lots of stuff that interests me. (Especially pleased you printed stuff about 'Oxygen Therapies'. I have studied that fascinating subject myself for a few years and have tried to get publication/journalists etc around Scandinavia interested in looking into it. With Zero luck!)

Looking forward to reading more issues of Nexus. Live long and prosper.

Re: What I like in Nexus

Dear Sir/Madam, I've only just started getting your magazine and I think it is terrific. I really like those articles on suppressed technology. I bought a heap of "Cosmic Conspiracy" books from a friend of Stan Deyo back in the early 80's and gave them away to my customers. Actually, reading your magazine was about the only indication that Stan is still around!

I really like "The Twilight Zone", and "Science News", but I don't go much on any New Age stuff. I am totally amazed that you don't have the liberty to publish all you know about the drug trade ... Never fear... these things too shall pass away when the Prince of Peace finally returns!

Thank you for what you are doing.

(Thank you to those that take the time to write. We apologise to those whose letters we did not have room for in this issue of Nexus. Ed.)
